"I am frank in saying that the policy of our association is one directly opposed to prohibition, and that not primarily because when you vote a town 'dry' you injure business interests, but because of the debauchery and degradation that is the direct result of prohibition.

"The evidence of this is to be found in the history of the southern states that have gone 'dry,' also in the states of Michigan, Indiana and Ohio, where large towns and cities have voted for prohibition under the county unit provision of the law.

"In Michigan, where two years ago three of the largest counties voted for prohibition under the county unit provision, conditions became so bad that this year they went back into the 'wet' column, and many other instances could be

Another Step in Contest over Richest Coal Lands Known to Exist.

UNCLE SAM TAKES APPEAL

Contends That Judge Hanford Erred in Quashing Indictment Against Stracey Claimants.

WASHING ON, May 11 -The fight over probably the richest coal lands in the world was transferred today to the supreme court of the United States when the government docketed an appeal from the order of the federal court of Washgroup" indictment.

Judge Hanford of the lower court juashed the indictment on the ground quashed the indictment on the ground that under his interpretation of the coal land laws applicable to Alaska the indictment had not stated an offense. The appeal from the decision will bring before the supreme court the determination of the law under which Alaskan coal land may be entered and sold.

The appeal involves the indictments against Charles F. Munday, an attorney of Seattle, Wash., and Archie Shiels, employed by Algernon Stracey. It does not include that against Algernon Stracey, who was indicted along with Munday and Shiels, but who was absent when the others were arraigned.

It was from the alleged interest of Stracey and his brother. Sir Edward Stracey, an English baronet and Liberal member of parliament, in the land that the name of Stracey group or "English group" was given to the claims.

member of parliament, in the land that the name of Stracey group or "English group" was given to the claims.

The government charged in the indictment that Munday, Shiels and Algermon Stracey entered into a conspiracy to defraud the government out of 5000 acres of coal land, valued at $10,000,000, just west of the so-called Cunningham coal land claims. The scheme alleged was to induce "by cunning persuasion and promises of pecuniary reward and other corrupt means" persons to make fictitious locations and fraudulent entries of the coal lands, ostensibly for the exclusive use of themselves, "but in truth and in fact for the use and benefit of the Alaska Development company and the Pacific Coal & Oil company."

The land in question is still held by the government, no patent having been issued to any Alaska coal claimant. At places the coal seams are said to be sixty feet thick. Some 1000 claims have been filed upon the coal lanas, many of them forming the basis for indictments in Spokane. Tacoma, Detroit and Chicago. The present appeal is the first one to come to the supreme court as a result of the government's proceedings. Action on it may affect the other indictments.

PLACE IN THE COUNTRY | Colonel Christopher Columbus Wilson, Company's President, the Chief Beneficiary.

NEW YORK. May 11.—In the trial of officers of the United Wireless Telegraph company, charged with misuse of the mails, the government today, through expert accountants, traced the history of 714,524 shares of stock which the defendants are alleged to have issued to themselves.

The Pacific const took kindly to the glowing descriptions of what United Wireless was about to do. John P. Feonsler, an accountant, testified. Investors there, he said, had purchased 82,754 shares of preferred stock for $1,782,514.

Of this, Colone Christopher Columbus Wilsom the company's president, received $1,712,156, Feonsler said, less commissions he paid George H. Parker, a western sales agent.

Albert T. Johnson, another accountant, testified that of $793,275 received from the sale of $3,000 shares of treasury stock, $500,210 had gone for selling commissions. The net loss of the company's operations of its various stations, he said, was $175,540 in three years.
